What has this TA done that has been most helpful for you?

Sit down and explain to me how exactly static and instance works. The whiteboard he brings around is super useful| | | Helped in team labs| Go through with the labs if we get something wrong.| Drawing pictures with whiteboard and marker| helpful with lab assignments| - Explained labs and assignments at an elementary level

- Wasn't intimidating to approach when asking for help, doesn't make you feel stupid or dumb when asking questions, unlike other TAs

- Made sure I understood what was going on, if I didn't, he was able to explain it in alternate ways

- He would write out the code in lab and explain it step by step, making sure we understood why the code was doing what it was doing| He really helped explain topics I was confused on| He has helped me on a couple of Zybooks labs and has helped me with some tracing during labs.| Very clear in explaining all concepts.| Provide insightful answers on questions| He goes in depth into the reasons why things work the way they do.

How could this TA improve to provide you and other students with better assistance in the future?

Use the whiteboard at every lab from the beginning, his drawings are super useful| | | Probably slow down a little bit while explaining| N/A| | NA| - Being more accessible is always better, but it is understandable as he is a student as well

- Overall, I have no complaints about Chi as a TA at all.

- Nothing, but positive reviews| Honestly Chi did great and I don't think there's anything he can do better| n/a| Nothing| Continue being the awesome person that he is| I can't think of anything, Chi was a great TA and I really enjoyed having him.

What is the likelihood that you would recommend this TA to fellow students?
