What has this TA done that has been most helpful for you?

Explained areas of confusion and problems very well when confused during TeamLab; Explained concepts to me in lab that I missed in lecture.; Explained concepts in a way that could easily be understood; He would answer my question without being vague; Help explain and break down tough concepts for me; Big programs; answers were prompt and helpful; Explaining how things are stored in memory on both the stack and the heap. Extremely helpful when learning about arrays and ArrayLists.; in depth explanations of lab questions; Explaining arrays and memory; This TA has explained very well the information for the team labs; Explains tricky concepts very well; Chi was awesome in lab with explaining concepts and he really helped me understand things and made sure I understood a concept before leaving to help someone else. If I still didn't understand a concept after he explained it, he successfully explained it in another way which I would help me understand better; He has been very good about giving us small technical details that might trip us up on exams, or correcting himself if he makes a mistake.

How could this TA improve to provide you and other students with better assistance in the future?

Keep up the good work!!; N/A; Chi doesn't need to improve anything.; He does not need much improvements;;; NA; Sometimes cruised through some explanations before I could get a solid grasp on the concepts.; -; Explain the steps you take a little more; Talk a little slower; He does the problems for us sometimes very quickly- would be nice for him to explain the concepts a bit more in depth rather than just writing it on a whiteboard for us.;;

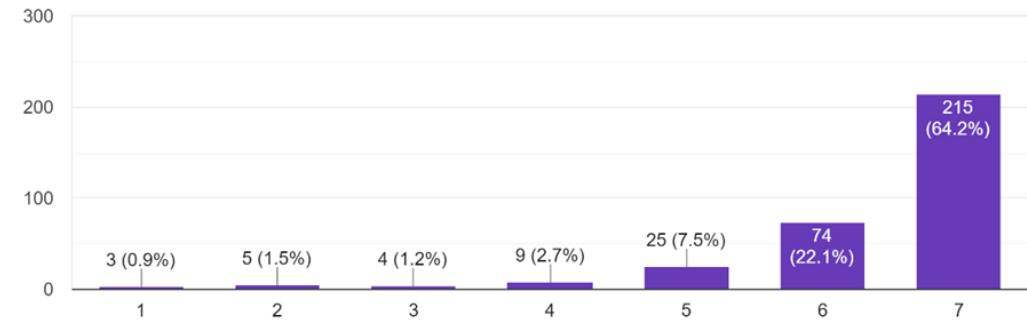

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions to share with this TA?

:); nah; Chi was a great TA.; He is the best TA because he is one of the few TAs that does not give a vague answer.; You're awesome!;; really helpful TA!; Friendly and intelligent;-; He dresses fly. The flyest TA for sure;;;;
